NFPMT – Mandated Community Terms

The Postgraduate Medical Council of Victoria (PMCV) would like to advise that there has been new advice from the Australian Medical Council (AMC) regarding the implementation of Mandated Community Terms as part of the implementation of the National Framework for Prevocational Medical Training (NFPMT).

The AMC has confirmed that Community Terms will not be mandated in the foreseeable future as significant consultation is required with stakeholders prior to implementation.

PMCV does not expect these terms to be in place for at least five years but will actively encourage new community rotations through our accreditation program.
