The NFPMT and Vocational PGY2 Training Requirements

In Victoria, implementation of the Australian Medical Council (AMC) National Framework for Prevocational Medical Training will commence in 2024 with PGY1, followed by PGY2 in 2025.

The Postgraduate Medical Council of Victoria (PMCV) has sought clarification from the AMC regarding the training requirements for PGY2 doctors who enter a vocational training program, that is, whether the PGY2 who are part of a vocational training program are required to meet the requirements of both frameworks.

PGY2 doctors who are part of a vocational training program are exempt from meeting the requirements of the AMC National Framework for Prevocational Medical Training.

PMCV is awaiting guidance from the AMC as to whether PGY2 positions must still be accredited by PMCV regardless of vocational training. PMCV will provide an update once clarity on the topic is received.
